Admission Procedures for Social Work at CUA

Transfer Students cannot enroll into Upper Division social work courses or begin a field placement until they have completed the application process for Upper Division Social Work Status. Students must be officially accepted by the Director of the Social Work Program. Students need to apply for Upper Division Status along with their transfer paperwork during the spring semester of their Sophomore year and begin their Upper Division SW Foundation Courses in the fall of their junior year. Prior to Upper Division Status, students are must take two introductory courses, SW 225 (Social Work and Social Welfare) and SW 235 (Introduction to Child Welfare) during freshman or sophomore years. SW 225 will be transferred, so SW 235 must be taken fall of Junior year at latest, with permission. Upper Division Social Work Foundation courses are offered in a sequence which begins in the fall of the student's junior year.

Transfer Students may be accepted into Upper Division Status, if they have completed the above requirements or received approval from the Dir. of the Social Work Program. These students will need to review their transfer core curriculum credits with the admissions counselor and Registrar's Office. Any transfer credits related to the social work major and social science minor must be reviewed by the Director of the Social Work Program.

To maintain a good standing, a student must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2 .5 and a minimum GPA of 2 .75 in social work classes. A student may repeat a course one time.

The process for admission to Upper Division Status:

- Complete transfer agreements
- Receive approval of transfer from Dir. of Social Work Program
- Register for SW235 in fall of Junior Year (first semester at CUA)
- Complete an application for acceptance into Upper Division
 - Completion of Application for Admission Form
 - Completion of an Upper Division Narrative (self-study)
 - Interview with Dir. of the Social Work Program or social work
